The Cherubs made another Dewey finish in yesterday's game and by so doing carried themselves to the top of the lad-

The game had been going along in a desultory way until the seventh linning, when the lead that the Cherubs had held was overcome and thed by the l'aterson-ians, and their bits of energy was put into the contest by the Cherubs and a determination to win was registered.

Neither team exerted themselves to their utmost until this state of affairs came about and then it was war to the finish, with no advantage gained by either An extra inning did the business, how-

The same rabbit's foot that had won the game on the previous day was the instrument by which a victory was made easy again yesterday. The lucky tailsman was placed on the reporters table at the beginning of the tenth inning with the result as stated above.

The Cherubs started to make runs in the first inning. After Klopf had taken a tumble, Shannon was given the walk. The latter went to second on Lutenberg's

The latter went to second on Lutenberg single and to third on Lute's out at second and scored on an error.

Two runs were made in the second inning. Dundon walked; took second on a hit by Vig and both men were sacrificed down by Schmidt, following it up by runs on Klopf's hit.

Run-getting continued in the third inning. Haiph Seybold put it out for two bags and scored on Nance's bad throwin. Then Vlau, the handsome Paterson twirler took a reef in his jib sail and held the Cherubs down for six innings.
At that stage of the game, however, the denizens of Rooters' Row got in the game with hands and feet and Vlau grew nervous. The Cherubs took advantage of that and banged his billows out for five hits, netting four runs, and winning the game. for five dame,

The visitors made their runs as follows: In the second inning, Remis got safe on a choice in which LaRocque was killed, went down on Johnson's hit and scored on Viau's hit, Johnson doing the same, while Shannon was mixing himself up with the ball.

Another run was made in the sixth. Gettinger singled, went down on La-Rocque's hit, to third on a choice and scored on Johnson's double. The next run, which was the last, was made in the seventh. Nance walked, went to second on Klopf's arror, to third on a pased balls, and scored on a choice.

They tried hard for the next three innings, but Harry Schmidt held them down and nothing resulted.

The cranks got into the game yesterday to some extent and helped things along considerably. The players, also, found their voices, and Hargrove was heard to chirp as is his wont, while Dundon grew very much enthused.

The official score of the game that placed the Cherubs on top again follows:

A Famous Hunter of Deer and Wild Turkeys.

WAYCROSS, GA., June 12.—A citizen of Irwin county, Mr. James Fletcher, better known as "Sandy Jim." to distinguish him from a cousin of the same name, has a collection that, in these late days of the nineteenth century is a unique one. It is about 300 sets of deer antiers that at one time were arranged in rows under the plazza shed of his residence, one tier above another. The best of it is Mr. Fietcher remembers the history of each pair of antiers and can tell of it is Air. In his haste to secure them he decided to crawl through into the pen ne decided to crawl inrough into the pen and catch and kill them. But when he got irside, he would have given half his worth to be out again. Did you ever try to handle a live, wild turkey? He is a warm member. And all eight of these were warm members, and as Mr. Fletchworked they rapidly became warmer At last, after making the most desperate hight of his life, he came out victorious and the turkeys were all slain, but when Mr. Fletcher slowly and painfully grawled out of that slaughter pen he was not as handsome as he once was, but he knew more. AT HAMPDEN-SIDNEY.

The Closing Exercises and the Annual Festivities.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, June 14.—Special.
The final examinations of the one hundred and twenty-second session of Hampden-Sidney College came to a close on the 11th instant, and the regular annual festivities of the commencement season become

NEW POINT OF EMBARKATION. The Board Will Not Recommend. But Will Point Out Advantages of Cities, WASHINGTON, June 14.—The board appointed by Secretary Alger to select a and Lieutenant Judwin.

They visited Columbia, Charleston and Summerville, in South Carolina; Savannah, Brunswick and Augusta, in Georgia, and Fernandina and Jacksonville, in Florida. It was a rush tour of inspection all through, and travelling by night, and inspecting by day, the board made its rounds in eight days.

The report will not recommend specifically any one city, but will set forth the advantages and disadvantages of each in the matter of railroad facilities, depth of water for transports, camp grounds, water supply, sanitation, etc.

While no point will be recommended, it is said the report will make clear the obvious advantages of one or more dities, so that Secretary Aiger can readily make a selection.

so that Secretary Aiger can readily make a selection.

The depth of water in the harbors is fest to be a very essential point, for the transports as well as the convoys would have difficulty in threading some of the narrow, tortuous and shallow waters leading to the points of inspection. Jacksonville is well thought of, but the depth of water at the entrance of St. John's river, which is not much more than streen feet between the jettles, is something of a drawblack.

At Fernandina there is sifteen feet at the entrance deepening to three and one-ousrter fathoms further up the channel. Savannah has from eighteen to twenty feet, and Charleston about twenty-one feet at mean low water.
